The Square Yard & Country Floors™

Partner to Offer Style and Elegance in Tile & Stone

Summit, NJ – August 11, 2008. The Square Yard's partnership with Country Floors™ provides its customers an exclusive selection of unique tiles and stone. Country Floors™ is considered a foremost style-setter in the ceramic tile and stone industry and is the first choice of many architects, interior designers and savvy consumers.

The company was founded in 1964 by New York still life photographer Norman Karlson on the idea that design integrity could be achieved and maintained through artistry and uncompromising concern for quality. Karlson felt there was a void in many areas of the ceramic and stone market. Originally, he imported tiles from Europe that had rarely been seen in America. Eventually, the company became involved in every aspect of the creative process including the evolution of each design concept to the finished product.
